

Links for more help and to examples of student papers

Below are some links that may be of useful to you while writing your research paper:

<http://www.apastyle.org/>

This site provides up to date information and examples for documenting electronic sources. It is possible to buy the current manual or software from this site.

<http://www.mla.org/>

This site provides information about using MLA style. Also, you can order the manual form this site.

<http://www.library.unt.edu/>

This site provides access to UNT's on-line catalogue for finding sources and more.

http://webster.commnet.edu/apa/apa\_index.htm

This site provides a guide for writing a research paper using APA style.

<http://owl.english.purdue.edu/>

This site provides a lot of help with writing research papers. You can e-mail questions and get responses. Also, it has up-to-date APA and MLA style information.

<http://www.library.cornell.edu/olinuris/ref/research/skill1.htm>

This site walks you through the steps of writing a research paper. It also helps with critical analysis of sources.

<http://libraries.mit.edu/>

This site provides more help for doing research. It also provides access to on-line databases.

<http://www.lib.umich.edu/>

This site provides more help for doing research. It also provides access to on-line databases.